

Look Before You Leap

Gregory Isaacs

Oh yeah

What was once hidden, in the darkest of the night
Let me tell you now
Has now been revealed
In the broad, in the broad daylight

So, you better look before you leap
Still water runs deep
And what you sow you will reap
'Cause you're the one who's gonna weep
And I know you will reap what you sow
Yes, I know you will reap what you sow

Arise from out of your slumber
Or your days will surely be numbered, now
Don't just sit there waiting on time
Because time will leave you behind

You better look before you leap
Still water runs deep
And what you sow you will reap
'Cause you're the one who's gonna weep
And I know you will reap what you sow
Yes, I know you will reap what you sow
Yeah

Look before you leap
Don't you know that, still water run deep
