

Willow Tree

Gregory Isaacs

No more now, no more, no more now

They say that once the tear has fallen
The willow cries eternally
Cries out for me, my willow tree
Don't shed your tears eternally
'Cause I have found the love I've searched for
And I need your tears no more (no more), no more

Some say, beware my weeping willow
And it will never be the same
Cry not for we, my willow tree
Don't shed your tears eternally
'Cause I have found a love I've searched for
And I need your tears no more (no more), no more

No more now, no more, no more now

Some say, beware my weeping willow
And it will never be the same
Cry not for we, my willow tree
Don't shed your tears eternally
'Cause I have found a love I've searched for
And I need your tears no more (no more), no more

(No more) No more, no more
(No more) No more
(No more) No more
(No more)...
