

Don't Be a Fool

Gregory Porter

Don't be a fool
Don't give your nights to someone else
While giving days to those that really love you
Don't be a fool like me
And give your life to someone else
While faking love to those who really love you

Why couldn't I have realised
The gravity of telling lies
Who's weight now shoes upon your faceless mound
I know your heart now and before
But I won't do it anymore
Trust in me and fall in love again

Listen to these charms
Cos' baby I'm not fooling
And fall into these open arms of love
Listen to these charms
Cos' baby I'm not fooling
And fall into these open arms of love
Listen to these charms
Cos' baby I'm not fooling around
And fall into these open arms of love

Why couldn't I have realised
The gravity of tears in eyes
Who's weight now shoes upon your faceless smile
I broke your heart now and before
But I won't do it anymore
Trust in me and fall in love again

Why couldn't I have realised
The gravity of telling lies
Who's weight now shoes upon your faceless mound
I know your heart now and before
But I won't do it anymore
Trust in me and fall in love again

Listen to these charms
Cos' baby I'm not fooling
And fall into these open arms of love
Listen to these charms
Cos' baby I'm not fooling
And fall into these open arms of love
Listen to these charms
Cos' baby I'm not fooling around
And fall into these open arms of love
And fall into these open arms of love
And fall into these open arms of love
