

Running Away

Greyson Chance

Running away through the nights so black
The stars on my shoulder
Pulling me back
Whispers of you
Ringing through my ears
Trying to forget all the wasted tears
And all your lies in your blue eyes
Another day goes by

And all I can say is
Wish i could forget you
But you keep coming back
You're running away through the nights so black
The stars on your shoulder
Pulling you back
Maybe you can forget
But I just can't

One day I'm here and one day I'm there
Some days I wake up and I just don't know where
I see the lights on the city streets
I'm wide awake while the world still sleeps
In all my dreams the picture freezes

And every night it's always the same
Wish I could forget you ohhh
But you keep coming back
You're running away through the nights so black
The stars on your shoulder pulling you back
Maybe you can forget but I just can't
No I just can't no I just can't
I just can't

Running away through the nights so black
The stars on my shoulder pulling me back
Whispers of you ringing through my ears
Trying to forget all the wasted tears
Wish I could forget you
But you keep coming back
You keep coming back, you keep coming back
Wish I could forget you
I just can't
