Matter of Time

Grim Reaper

I'm going crazy just sitting around My mind is racing I don't hear a sound People talkin' at me makin' me mad Tonight's the night and it's gonna be bad

I always said It's just a matter of time I always said It's just a matter of time

People on the streets are running for their life The flame of gunfire flashes like a knife I feel the pain a sudden warming glow Will I survive tell me I don't know

I always said It's just a matter of time I always said It's just a matter of time

I feel my pulse fade away As I lay dying, won't see another day I'll take ten men with me to the grave My hopeless soul they tried but couldn't save

I always said It's just a matter of time I always said It's just a matter of time
