

We Must Go To The Top

Grzegorz Turnau

We must go to the top,
we want to get to the top.
Though some of us may get weary at dusk, the clouds should be gone by the break of dawn and the wind will drop as soon as we get to the top.

We must walk up the hill, we want to march up the hill.
Though such a task may seem hopeless at dusk, our doubts should be gone by the break of dawn and our task won't be hard to fulfill as we start walking up the hill.