

Kiss the Night

Gungor

Everything we have Built upon the back
Of Black and Native blood

Believing they were right
With sacred texts and lies
The patriarchy died

Some did not believe the lie
And doubt began to bloom a dream
A dream

Kiss the night
We'll feel our bodies closer to the sky
Follow the light, untill we find our morning
We're dancing through the evening
Through the fight

The world they made was flat
Now you see the truth
You can't believe the lie

Mourn the dead
Lift your head
Now it's time to fight

Love the doubt that's changing us
Doubt is keeping us alive
Alive

Kiss the night
We'll feel our bodies closer to the sky
Follow the light, untill we find our morning
We're dancing through the evening
Through the fight
Feel our bodies closer
You and I
Consonance isn't always peaceful
Dissonance isn't always evil
Cross the line
Listen to me people
Seek and ye shall find

Consonance isn't always peaceful
Dissonance isn't always evil
Cross the line
Listen to me people
Seek and ye shall find

Kiss the night
We'll feel our bodies closer to the sky
Follow the light, untill we find our morning
We'll dance into the evening
Through the fight

Kiss the night
We'll feel our bodies closer to the sky

Folow the light, untill we find our morning
We'll dance into the evening
You and I
Cross the line

Consonance isn't always peaceful
Cross the line
Seek and ye shall, seek and ye shall find
