

This Is How It Feels to Have a Broken Heart

Guster

It was the darkest day
I could tell from the moment you spoke my name
Said in a miserable way with every year you've come to regret i t

We've colored in the lines and followed all the signs
Fought a war till the war was over
Said you'd never be the kind with an ordinary life
Now this how it feels to have a broken heart

Look at the mess we made
Now we stopped and say what we always say
And then you make the great escape
With every year you'll come to regret it

And everything we had you think that it's a trap
You fought a war now war was over
You knew what you would find was an ordinary life
Now this how it feels to have a broken heart
