

No Easy Road

Hal Ketchum

I don't know where, don't know when,
This road I'm on is gonna end.
It's been my friend, it's been my sin,
My next of kin.
Travelled high, travelled low,
Rain still falls, the wind still blows.
One thing I've learned, one thing I know,
There ain't no easy road.

No roots, no ties,
No rings, no wives.
No alibis, no crying eyes.
No one to care,
If I'm not there.
There ain't no easy road.

Spent my life just running round,
Another girl, another town.
The sun comes up as I touch down,
Nowhere bound.
Had my chance a time or two
Almost cried when I left you
One thing I've learned, one thing I know,
There ain't no easy road
