

One More Midnight

Hal Ketchum

Twenty-seven truckstops
Santa Fe to Grapevine
Hollywood in my eyes
Sittin' on a suitcase
Waitin' on my next ride

Ocean full'a diesel
Cloud'a cigarettes
Lonely ol' heart full'a 'ain't there yet'
Million little white lines in the rearview
All the comin'
All the goin'
And it all comes down to

One more midnight
One more coffee in a paper cup
One more tread on my soul
One more sunset
One more sweet dream
Rockin' to the rhythm of the road
I got one more midnight to go

Woke up last few
Hit me like a freight train
Had to get back to you
Nothin' but broke down
Beat up
Black and blue
Since you

Highways and byways and little two-lanes
Standin' all night in the Texas rain
Thirteen states with three time zones
All the missin'
All the wishin'
All I'm countin' on is

One more midnight
One more coffee in a paper cup
One more tread on my soul
One more sunset
One more sweet dream
Rockin' to the rhythm of the road
I got one more midnight to go

One more midnight
One more coffee in a paper cup
One more tread on my soul
One more sunset
One more sweet dream
Rockin' to the rhythm of the road

One more midnight
One more midnight
