

In a Black Out

Hamilton Leithauser

I live in a nameless town
No need to wander around
I live in a nameless town
In a black out

Many friends have said Goodbye
Paraded out in one proud line
I say they all just lost their minds

Midnight where we used to dance
Underneath the ugly halogen lamps
Oh it all went away so fast
In a black out

We'll wait for the year
When the tide come rolling over the rails
From here till the end of this island
Washing away

I rent a room with all our stuff
When you come home I'd lift you up
And there's only the two of us
In a black out

Now you're sleeping in the back
Of a speeding yellow cab
Throw a kiss goodbye to all of that
