

I'm So Tired Of Goin' Home All By Myself

Hank Locklin

I'm so tired of goin' home all by myself
Please darlin', don't place my love on the shelf
The day you'll say I do
Will be the day my dreams come true
'Cause I'm so tired of goin' home all by myself

Please don't let others turn your love to hay
Pay no mind, my dear, to what they say
You know my love is true
Yes, you know I love just you
And if it takes a hundred years you know I'll wait

If you want me now's the time to tell me dear
We've waited now these, oh, so many years
I need you every way
I'm so lonely night and day
And I know I've shed at least a million tears

'Cause I'm so tired of goin' home all by myself
Please darlin', don't place my love on the shelf
The day you say I do
Will be the day my dreams come true
But tonight I'm goin' home all by myself
