

Drunkard's Blues

Hank Thompson

Walking slow to the graveyard I've lost everything I could lose Now I've even lost my baby I guess I've got the drunkard's blues s
It was down at Big Joe's barroom on the corner beyond the squar e
Everybody drinkin' good liquor the regular crowd was there
So I strolled out on the sidewalk began to look around Looking everywhere for my baby but that sweet woman can't be fo und
It was down at St James infirmary I found my baby there Stretched out on a long white table so cold so pale so fair So I strolled back down to the barroom to get another drink of gin
The next thing you know I'm reeling rocking and drunk again
Sixteen coal black horses all hitched up in a line
In that pretty buggy she's ridin' goodbye ol' gal of mine
Walking slow to the graveyard I've lost everything I could lose
Now I've even lost my baby I guess I've got the drunker's blues
