I Can't Change My Tune

Hank Williams Jr.

Babe, I can't change my tune for you But I'll sing any melody you want me to I'll sing all the country and all of the blues But babe, I can't change my tune for you So don't ask me to

But babe, I can pull some strings for you I'll pull them until each one is in tune I'll try to make things go like you want to But babe, I can't change my tune for you But I'll pull strings for you

Maybe I'll write a song about you Even though I am just passing through I'll sing you all the old songs and all of the new 'Cause babe, I can't change my tune for you So don't ask me to