

Maybe I'm the One Who's Crazy

Hank Williams Jr.

Anymore it ain't no big deal
To bend the rules just to get what you want
Fight to get ahead, then you stab 'em in the back
People getting used like a stepping stone

They say it's just the business
But if that's the way it is

Maybe I'm the one who's crazy
But my heart still knows right from wrong
Playing by the rules doesn't matter anymore
Then I've completely lost my mind
The way the world is going lately
Maybe I'm the one who's crazy

It seems these days you don't need a reason
To walk away and just give up on love
When times get hard, that's the easy way out
If someone else gets hurt that's tough

But I'm still a believer
Love was meant to last forever

Maybe I'm the one who's crazy
But my old heart still knows wrong from right
If playing by the rules doesn't matter anymore
Then I've completely lost my mind
The way the world is going lately
Maybe I'm the one who's crazy
Maybe I'm the one who's crazy
