

What It Boils Down To

Hank Williams Jr.

Baby we've been together, now for quite a while.
We've been around enough to know that we like each others style
You got looks and smarts and all the right parts, to really turn me on.
We act like a couple of high school kids talkin' hot stuff on the phone.
We don't put no pressure on each other,
right there is the key, and the fire is hot
'cause baby we've got up a real good head of steam.
What it boils down to, is honey I love you.
When it's said and done, baby you're the one.
When it's cut and dried, I want you by my side.

What it boils down to, is the feelin' between me and you.
When a man loves a woman, it's gotta be no holes barred,
if she makes him uncomfortable, oh he'll know in his heart.
He wants someone to share his troubles with, and someone to talk to.
Now you either get along or you don't, that's what it all boils down to.
No I don't need a harem or a chambermaid you see
'cause my girl's nice she's sugar and spice,
but she'll belly dance with me.
What it boils down to, is honey I love you.
When it's said and done, baby you're the one.
When it's cut and dried, I want you by my side.
What it boils down to, is the feelin' between me and you,
That's what it boils down to, baby I got the hots for you.
That's what it boils down to.
