

You Can't Find Many Kissers

Hank Williams Jr.

When I make love I wanna a girl that'll kiss me
And when I'm gone, I'd like to hear that she'll miss me
But all that I've heard is belt buckles hitting the floor
And you can't find many kissers anymore

Most of these girls they just don't know what their missing
If they'd spend a little more time with the hugging and kissing
I'll give em all of my love if they'll just take it slow
But you can't find many kissers anymore

No, you can't find many kissers anymore
One you love as much in the morning as you did just the night before
Oh, a girl that you won't have to tell her hey I gotta go
But you can't find many kissers anymore

All of you ladies take some good advice from me
If you want faithful effects of my virility
Baby, you gotta kiss me and hug me and do it real slow
Lord, you can't find many kissers anymore

No, a girl that you won't have to tell her hey I gotta go
You can't find many kissers anymore

Lord, it's hard to find huggers and smoochers and kissers anymore
