

Let Me Out

Hanker

I have no time to try, it's getting much too late
I have no time to cry, 'cause I know you won't wait
I have no wings to fly I'm digging my own way
I have no time to waste I must follow the way

Through all those years I've tried with pride for your own sake
Through all those nights I've cried and drowned in my own wake
Each time I'm close enough you're pushing me away
This time I'll win out of my way!

Let me out! There's no time to go
Let me out! I'll rise
Let me out! There's a place I know
Let me out! Tonight!
Let me out!

I have no time for lies; it's getting damned too late
I have no time for tries, 'cause you know I won't wait
I have nothing to hide except my own escape
I have no time to waste I must follow my way

Through all those tears I've cried, you can see my own fate
Through all those fights I've had, you can feel my own faith
Each time I'm close enough you're pushing me away
This time I swear I'm on my way!

Out! Let me out!
Let me out! There's no time to go
Let me out! I'll rise
Let me out! There's a place I know
Let me out! I'll rise!
Let me out! There's a place you know
Let me out! Tonight!
Tonight!
