

East Northumberland High

Hannah Montana

My problem isn't that I miss you
'Cause I don't
My problem isn't that I kissed you, whoa-oh
I figured out
That you're nothing that I thought you're about
You're just caught in a place
That soon time will erase in my heart

You're my type of guy, I guess
If I was stuck in East Northumberland High
For the rest of my life
But people change
Thank God I did
Just because I liked you back then
It doesn't mean I like you now
Just because I liked you back then
It doesn't mean I like you

Your problem's not for lack of tryin'
'Cause you do
Just that you're at your best when you're lyin', whoa-oh
Now you're standin' here
Saying things you think I wanted to hear
But you've got it all wrong
I've already moved on my dear

You're my type of guy, I guess
If I was stuck in East Northumberland High
For the rest of my life
But people change
Thank God I did
Just because I liked you back then
It doesn't mean I like you now
Just because I liked you back then
It doesn't mean I like you

When you're standing near me
I don't see so clearly
The feelings are still palpable
But when I take two steps away
It shakes some light on my day
Yeah, you can't go back
It's all in the past
Guess you gotta laugh at it

You're my type of guy, I guess
If I was stuck in East Northumberland High
For the rest of my life
But people change
Thank God I did
And if there's some confusion
Let me tell you you're just delusional
Get a clue, 'cause people change
Thank God I did
Thank God I did
Thank God I did

Just because I liked you back then
It doesn't mean I like you now
Just because I liked you back then
It doesn't mean I like you, doesn't mean I like you
Just because I liked you back then
It doesn't mean I like you now
