

Fighting the Battle

Hardline

I've been living in the cold and the dark
With the wounds you couldn't heal in the past
I want to rise again and find the strength to break these ways
I dreamed a million times, my life go down in rhymes

I walk through fire and rain
To find the reason to stay

Fighting the battle 'til the end
No matter who you are, my soul will mend

I've been mistreated, I've been confused by life
I was taken by the hand to Hell
I wish it wasn't tough, to find my soul is never enough
I ran through my despair, life will never seem fair

I walk through fire and rain
To find a reason to stay

Fighting the battle 'til the end
No matter who you are, my soul will mend
Taking the chance I never had
No matter where you are, I will be there

How can we live this way?
With hope in our hearts

Fighting the battle 'til the end
No matter who you are, my soul will mend
Taking the chance I never had
No matter where you are, I will be there

Fighting the battle 'til the end
Taking the chance I never had
No matter where you are, I will be there
