

Running on Empty

Hardline

Still I see a reason to believe
Just trust in me and you'll be free
I'll be the shelter from the storm
Come here, somebody to keep you warm

Pray for sunshine after the rain
Don't cry for love

I keep on standing with my back against the wall
I'm still running on empty
I am the one to save you right before the fall
I'm still running on empty
Running on empty

Still you see a reason to give up
Why don't you fight instead of crying?
You'll be your worst enemy
Come here, I'll show you the way out

Pray for sunshine after the rain
Don't cry for love

I keep on standing with my back against the wall
I'm still running on empty
I am the one to save you right before the fall
I'm still running on empty
Running on empty

I keep on standing with my back against the wall
I'm still running on empty
I am the one to save you right before the fall
I'm still running on empty
Running on empty
