

My Everything Is You

Hartmann

We started out such a long long time ago
Been up been down i still feel you need to know
Feels like a fantasy you're a fairytale come true Unlike a world where love can hurt it's another one with you

I may not always say that i love you
But you've showed me what it really means
By giving me every part of you

Everything i ever wanted, everything i ever need
Everything i could imagine, you gave everything to me
I'm nothing without you, my everything is you

Still can't believe after all that we've been thru You're all I need, sounds, crazy but it's true Can't imagine my life without you, it's nothing without you here
I wanna build my world around you to show you how much I care
I may not always say that i love you
So let me show you how I really feel
By giving you every part of me
