

Watch Me Rise

Have Heart

"goddamn", he said, "i promised myself i'd never feel this fucking way again, this world has got me praying on my knees for one peaceful thought in my mind,

my stride,
my life,
my time
is consumed with a thousand thoughts flying free like a flock of birds with no direction or intention of finding home it's so hard to think,

it's so hard to change
when this world doesn't see you any other way in this world, they choose to see me, they choose to see me

like a setting sun

so it's up to me,
i have to see me,
i have to see me
like the rising one

in my days somebody told me that the rain would always come,
always come to wash away the pain but nothing changes and this world still wants me down,
wants me down on my knees praying in that rain

"born this way, die this way"

i'd rather die on my feet
than live on my knees
i'd rather die on my feet
so you can watch me,
you can watch me

WATCH ME RISE
with the things we carry the loss,

the scars,
the weight of heavy hearts

so i say to the slaves of depression CARRY ON
and sing the sweet redeeming song about living this life free and long

(it goes like this)

watch me, watch me,

WATCH ME RISE
for Miles and miles