

American Bliss

Have Mercy

Right when the day broke and I saw my shadow
I felt sick with who I was and I know it's all because

You are calling just to check
If I'm still a bitter wreck
And I said I'm really unsure
But who really knows anymore

You tried to save me, it was a swing and a miss
You said you had the secret to American bliss
And you said some words I've never heard before
And it kills me to the core

Why don't you sing anymore
The sound of harmony from the first floor
I wish that I still heard it
Welcome me back, I swear I'm worth it

Should have taught me a lesson, made a better impression
Cause I'm not the person you thought would be perfect

And you were calling just to check
If I was still a bitter wreck
I said I'm good I'm sure
But who really knows anymore

You tried to save me, it was a swing and a miss
You said you had the secret to American bliss

And you said some words I've never heard before
And it kills me to the core

Why don't you sing anymore
The sound of harmony from the first floor
I wish that I still heard it
Welcome me back, I swear I'm worth it
What happened to that look back then
It used to always welcome me in
I think that I deserve it
Welcome me back, I swear I'm worth it

But you leave through the blur of the sun
To tell me I could be your only one
I could be your only one
I reach out but you're too far
And it's still dark where you are

Why don't you sing anymore
The sound of harmony from the first floor
I wish that I still heard it
Welcome me back, I swear I'm worth it
What happened to that look back then
It used to always welcome me in
I think that I deserve it
Welcome me back, I swear I'm worth it