

My Oldest Friend

Have Mercy

And I think everyone should know
That time moves faster as we go
When I forgot just who I am
My oldest friend, my oldest friend

I just thought I'd pick your brain
To see if mine looked the same
And I pictured us in a house one day
And we're okay

But you never saw it the way I did
We were 18, we were just kids
And if you would've fallen in love with me I swear to God
This wouldn't seem so very odd
Until the end, my oldest friend

If you would've fallen in love with me I swear to God
This wouldn't seem so very odd
It's all too very odd

It's all too very odd

Until the end, my oldest friend
