

So Like You

Have Mercy

I wanna see you again
'Cause summer it doesn't feel the same
Without you calling out my name
Without you calling every night
We're dancing next to the river
Some old quiet 90s song
You just hummed and sang along
And I just never had the nerve

And I wish we never crashed the car
And I hope you're happy where we are

How do you get around in this town
Without a good one locking you down?
'Cause I just wanted to drive you crazy
But baby I drove into the ground
The voice inside of my brain
This is so like you
If I'm going insane, maybe hey
I'll let the love life take me away
If I'm going insane, maybe hey
I'll let the love life take me away

It replays in my head
That we just can't bring back the dead
And every layer that we shed
With different views and different needs
And then we shake and we shiver
Put us right where we belong
And every right and every wrong
Is something we just had to see

And I wish we never crashed the car
And I hope you're happy where we are

How do you get around in this town
Without a good one locking you down?
'Cause I just wanted to drive you crazy
But baby I drove into the ground
The voice inside of my brain
This is so like you
If I'm going insane, maybe hey
I'll let the love life take me away
If I'm going insane, maybe hey
I'll let the love life take me away
If I'm going insane, maybe hey
I'll let the love life take me away
If I'm going insane, maybe hey
I'll let the love life take me away
