

Walking the path of no return, lurks the evil that lives within shattered dreams of many men, who tried to cross the bridge of sin!!!!
I'm the one who lives to tell the tale, of the mystical demon that once impaled,
the murders of many brought fear to the land,
this mythical menace, I will slay in the end.
The Goblin would sit beneath the rocks, waiting in the shadows as the bridge was blocked,
as the men who try to break the barricade,
they would witness the goblin's blade!
It was not a pretty sight to watch them die, but I was young and I feared for my life, their throats were cut at the flick of his wrist, and as they fell he said with a hiss:
"I'm the keeper of the bridge of souls, and underneath is where the blood river flows, so never try to cross my patch, for if you do I'll split you in half."
The Goblin would sit beneath the rocks,
waiting in the shadows as the bridge was blocked,
as the men who try to break the barricade,
they would witness the goblin's blade!
Walking the path of no return,
lurks the evil that lives within
shattered dreams of many men,
who tried to cross the bridge of sin.
I'm the one who lives to tell the tale,
of the mystical demon that once impaled,
the murders of many brought fear to the land,
this mythical menace, I will slay in the end.
The power is great within his sword, and the only way to defeat him, is to steal his source, leaving him weak, I shall show no remorse -
I will take his last breath, with his own sword.