Heathens From The North

Heavy Load

They came from far beyond Across the sea of evil From a land so strange Defying the powers of the dark sea Heathens from the north Coming to take it all Burning up your godforsaken church Raving the country coast to coast Raping all your daughters Torturing your sons for the pleasure Heathens from the north Coming to take it all When everything is done No treasures left behind They'll leave an exhausted land Sweeping away in their ships of dragon Heathens from the north Coming to take it all
