

Underworld

Heimdall

Walking the shades of the night
Towards an unknown, dark world of fallen tears
Walking through a lonely way
Dismal light like the moon in a grey cloudy sky

Underworld - I have come for you
To hear your voice and your words
Underworld - I have come for you
Watch over your son and bless his soul

Son - I'll show you what's your fate
What will be born from your deeds -
Painful and hard
You'll see the kings of the world,
Of the empires to come
They are tomorrow...

Underworld - I have come for you
To hear your voice and your words
Underworld - I have come for you
Watch over your son and bless his soul

Stand by my side along the way
If I fall take my hand
Please be my guide - show me the light
If I bleed heal my wounds

How many wars will be done for the splendour to shine?
How many tears will be poured for the kingdom to come?

Underworld - I have come for you
To hear your voice and your words
Underworld - I have come for you
Watch over your son and bless his soul
