

No Chance to Be Reborn

Helker

You are out, not so strong
To do your evil ways
You're alone, with your sinful
And remorseless heart
You can see, how they struggle
For your wicked wealth
You will leave
And your foul empire without control

One day you could have walked out
But your big ambitions won
You could never find
What matters most and now
It's too late

When you see the darkness
At the end of twisted roads
When your deadly fears creep in your soul
And you're standing face to face
Alone before the reaper
You won't have the time or chance to be reborn

Here they are, all around your coffin fight for more
They will be, as corrupt as you enjoyed to be

You could never understand
There were thngs beyond your world
You could never find what matters most and now
It's too late

When you see the darkness
At the end of twisted roads
When your deadly fears creep in your soul
And you're standing face to face
Alone before the reaper
You won't have the time or chance to be reborn