

Pieces

Hell or Highwater

Trying to find some order
One step back two forward
In the belly of the beast, insanity repeats

Rising up from the shadows
Barely avoiding the gallows
But I won't let history repeat
No!

I've been closing in on the one thing
That I need just to break me free
From all these chains that keep me
Down, down, down, down
I found out that all I need is
To look past what's just in reach
And separate myself from all that's
Drowning me out

None of this comes easy
Push back your demons
Quit to concede
There's never been a choice for me

Rising up from the shadows
Barely avoiding the gallows
But I won't let history repeat
No!

I've been closing in on the one thing
That I need just to break me free
From all these chains that keep me
Down, down, down, down
I found out that all I need is

To look past what's just in reach
And separate myself from all that's
Drowning me out

I've been waiting all night
I've been fighting for life
Pick up the pieces just
Before I fall apart
Turn the dark into light
No one here by my side
Pick up the pieces just
Before I fall apart
x

I've been waiting all night
I've been fighting for life
Pick up the pieces just
Before I fall apart
The only power I trust
Exists in all of us
It's what you give away
That fills an empty heart

I've been closing in on the one thing
From all these chains that keep me
Down, down, down, down
I found out that all I need is
