

The Other Side

Hell or Highwater

I've been feeling like a stone here
All my gathered moss in tow
So I packed up my cases
And headed into the unknown
You followed me out the back door
Silhouetted summer sweat
You knew I was leaving
You called out as the sun set
But my heart will be
A beacon in the night
Our blood will be our guide
I'll see you again when I return
From the other side
I've been feeling so conflicted
All this living on my own
Till I follow the river
I follow the water home
You were standing in the doorway
With your eyes upon the phone

You knew I was calling
You could feel it in your bones
And your heart will be
A beacon in the night
Our blood will be our guide
I'll see you again when I return
From the other side
When I return
From the other side
And my heart will be
A beacon in the night
Our blood will be our guide
I'll see you again when I return
From the other side
And your heart will be
A beacon in the night
Our blood will be our guide
I'll see you again when I return
From the other side