

We All Wanna Go Home

Hell or Highwater

another day begins feel the ocean air on you skin feel your heart beat pounding loud feel the rain as its pouring down "its been a while" he says to the wind with his blood shot eyes and a devils grin he goes out into the unknown and prays to god hell make it home

thats why we sing

another night will end with a loaded gun in his hand he hears bombs crashing in the distance he thinks of home and hopes that they miss him and all though he chose this road he fears the future and what it holds alone with explosions he prays to go hell make it home

ill go alone
