

Highschool Stalker

Hello Saferide

I've been looking for you, baby Anywhere that I can find
And I was searching for your sweet name Cause you never left my mind
I've been on the Altavista I went twice on the Yahoo And everywhere I go, there is always a clue, always something a bout you that may help me get my hands on you like

It's your birthday tomorrow but you're not getting anything you know It's your birthday tomorrow
but I'm not supposed to know
Not supposed to know

Hacked into the school computer changed all of your D's to A's Broke into the dentist's office Know you never needed braces Know you moved from another small town Know you're never going away Cause soon, you'll fall in love
The fortune teller said
And I know who will be the one to make your bed

And it's your birthday tomorrow
but you're not getting anything you know
It's your birthday tomorrow
but I'm not supposed to know
Not supposed to know

I was talking to your best friend
I checked out your high school yearbook
I was driving round your Mum's house she makes great coffee, you know I spoke to your former girlfriend so now, I know what I've got to expect And yesterday, you passed me by I swear, you nearly said Hi
I could have died
I swear to God I started crying