

Already Dead

Hey Violet

You shut
Me down
You want
Me more
And More
Upside and down
It's really on the floor

Break my will you
Jagged little pill
You'll live to burn
Your lesson never learned

Can't breathe
I don't need this

You lock me up
These chains are
Wearing thin
All of your lies
Getting under my skin

I turn attack
Wa lead you into black
This deam is out there's turning back

I try, wanna forgive but you lied all over again.
So I can't forget, forget what you did and
Now your words can't kill what's already dead. [x2]

Back and forth, you swing me on a noose
One after one the threads are coming loose.
Run me down, you wreck me to the core.
Scraping me up as if there's something more.

Don't you see I don't need this.

I try, wanna forgive but you lied all over again.
So I can't forget, forget what you did and
Now your words can't kill what's already dead. [x2]

No wonder there's nothing left.
No wonder life feels like death.
No faith in love survive.
'Cause once you start nothings left to learn.

I try, wanna forgive but you lied all over again.
So I can't forget, forget what you did and
Now your words can't kill what's already dead. [x2]
