

Misery

Hey

Who's the stranger outside our door?
Are you just friends or could it be more?
How far will you go? How far will you go?
She doesn't make it easy for you to ignore

You say you're sorry, before you go
Never loved me, how could I know?
How far did you go? How far did you go?
It doesn't make a difference, now the book is closed

Hard to think twice. A moment of joy for such a high price
Will be surprised what seem to be true there, not to be lies
Now is a fate to live in a mess of the choices you made
Left me alone, returned my heart and turned it to stone

Yes I'm alone, made of stone
Girl, I'm alone
Yes
I'm alone, I'm made of stone
Girl, I'm alone

Now she's left you, don't be surprised
A dangerous movement drips with ice
How far can it go? How far can it go?
And now you look for comfort inside my eyes

Seekin' and feelin' deep in your bones
No one to talk to, no place called home
Now where will you go? Now where will you go?
Fear controls your mind, and no return to stone

Hard to think twice... itd.

Yes I'm alone... itd.

And so my darling the story goes
Hope is shattered, faith is gone
There's nowhere to go. There's nowhere to go.
Come back into my twisted, aching, empty arms

Now I'm the stranger outside your door
We're not friends, no, It's so much more
How far would I go? How far could I go?
This isn't how the story was supposed to go.
