

You Just Don't Know It Yet

Holly Dunn

You can't look when I walk into the room
Confused from the scent of my perfume
Tongue tied tangled up inside when I brush up close to you
You're being hard headed honey but soon you're gonna come around
You're being cold hearted darling but love is gonna wear you down
Your number's comin' up like a seven and I'm willin' to bet
You're in love with me honey you just don't know it yet
Just don't know it yet
Trust me a woman would never lie
So don't fight you're just swimming against the tide
Love's will gets stronger still the more that it's denied
You're being hard headed honey

Love's will gets stronger still the more that it's denied
You're being hard headed honey
