

Mona

Hollywood Ending

This may sound kinda crazy or out of the blue
But yesterday I saw this girl
It was a gloomy afternoon
A shame she came and went so soon

She was walking over to me
Her dress was blowing in the wind
As she got closer I said,
"Won't ya tell me your name?"
And I was like

Mona
I wanna get to know ya
To figure you out
Cuz I feel like you could be my girl
And no I won't leave without your number
I'm calling you up
Cuz your killing me with those eyes

I know you gotta fight sometimes
I bet you put up with a million guys a day
Oh, don't you baby?
And she turned away

She might have seem distant
But she ain't the moon
And I know I'm gonna get there soon
Even though I've already struck out once
I'm still in front

I went straight back the next day
I felt her patience wearing thin
That's when I told her
That I know she feels the same
And I was like

Mona
I wanna get to know ya
To figure you out
Cuz I feel like you could be my girl
And no I won't leave without your number
I'm calling you up
Cuz your killing me with those eyes

I know you gotta fight sometimes
I bet you put up with a million guys a day
Oh, don't you baby?
Don't turn away

No, no, no don't you do that to me
If your mind's already been made up
Why am I still trying to wake up
I can change your thoughts about me
Cuz I know I'm creeping badly
But it's something I can't help

"Hey so um, I was thinking,

If you're free sometime
maybe we could go out..
..or not"

Mona

I wanna get to know ya
To figure you out
Cuz I feel like you could be my girl
And no I won't leave without your number
I'm calling you up
Cuz your killing me with those eyes

I know you gotta fight sometimes
I bet you put up with a million guys a day
Oh, don't you baby?

Mona