

Worth It

Hollywood Undead

Hold me closely
Never let me go, you're my only
I'm worthless, you're perfect
Somehow you make me feel like I'm worth it
Hold me closely
Never let me go, you're my only
I'm worthless, you're perfect
Somehow you make me feel like I'm worth it

I wish I could turn back time
I wish I could press rewind
If I had a dime for every time I lied
Then I could probably buy a fucking private island
It's once in a lifetime you find a diamond
But I traded it in for all those mindless nights and
I just forgot about you
I regret everything that I put you through
And I could try and pretend that I won't do it again
But it's impossible when I never face the truth
But this is probably not even what you want from me
Maybe I'll use honesty just to break monotony
No way you're stopping me
All I do is constantly hope to God this is my last apology

Hold me closely
Never let me go, you're my only
I'm worthless, you're perfect
Somehow you make me feel like I'm worth it
Hold me closely
Never let me go, you're my only
I'm worthless, you're perfect
Somehow you make me feel like I'm worth it

That look on your face when I stumble in
I know the words but I'm mumbling
I left you with scars and cuts within
You wanna kill me but I already did
I deserve it, I ain't picture perfect
I never learned shit, am I even worth it?
All alone and I'm getting nervous
But when I come around, you can feel the curse hit
I hate me more than you ever can
I don't think you'll ever understand
And now I'm doing it again
I'm a complex, fucked up, simple man
You kept my letters
But you burned my sweater
I know I said forever
We will die together

Hold me closely
Never let me go, you're my only
I'm worthless, you're perfect
Somehow you make me feel like I'm worth it
Hold me closely
Never let me go, you're my only
I'm worthless, you're perfect

Somehow you make me feel like I'm worth it
