

Your Life

Hollywood Undead

Fuck it, fuck every single memory
How you're done wrong but who's the real enemy?
You better figure out not a single thing is meant to be
The only thing that matters, how you live before you're put to sleep
That's how you're living if you're living just to breathe
I never waste a sentence, better listen when I speak
Or you're gonna know the truth when they put you underneath
And no one's gonna listen when you're six feet deep
I keep my heart tucked in my chest
I hide it underneath with a bulletproof vest
Who's next? I, no, I never gave a fuck
I was too busy dying, too busy giving up
Yeah, trust me
Just breathe
One day you're gonna see
Yeah, trust me
Just breathe
Otherwise, you're living on your knees

This is your life
It's do or die
The sun may never rise again
So be the light, the vision
This is your life
It's slipping by
You try to run but fall again
You get back up, that's living

Every day I feel like I wanna forget
And everywhere I go I see the angel of Death
To the left, I see what's right, b-but I hold it in the wrong hand
It's a fight, I see my life given no chance
It's hard to wake up, but I wanna believe
That I'm not alone with a broken dream
All the glitter ain't gold, don't be naive
Leave it all behind, just follow me
Yeah, trust me
Just breathe
One day you're gonna see
Yeah, trust me
Just breathe
Otherwise, you're living on your knees

This is your life
It's do or die
The sun may never rise again
So be the light, the vision
This is your life
It's slipping by
You try to run but fall again
You get back up, that's living

Today I finally felt like I wasn't in a dream
This ain't who I am inside or how it's supposed to be
My mind is on an endless road, and I've been losing sleep
And as the road is crumbling, these demons start to creep
I can't hold back

You couldn't stop me if you tried
You should know that
And when the fire burns inside
You can't hold back
Anything that never dies
You should know
That you can't hold back

This is your life
It's do or die
The sun may never rise again
So be the light, the vision
This is your life
It's slipping by
You try to run but fall again
You get back up, that's living