

Renaissance Eyes

Hootie & The Blowfish

Are you alone, renaissance eyes
I won't tell my family stolen from, renaissance eyes
Is that your car, renaissance eyes, yeah
Have you ever taken dancing lessons, renaissance eyes

Drench you in a passion
And dress you with a passion
Though the vision haunts you
I'm the one who wants you to love me with those eyes
Love me with those eyes

Oh, is that your car, renaissance eyes
I once had a car but it was stolen, renaissance eyes
Tell me your name, renaissance eyes
Do you ever think about the future, renaissance eyes

Drench you in a passion
And dress you with a passion
Though the vision haunts you
I'm the one who wants you to love me with those eyes
Love me with those eyes

Oh spend my days with her copies I've collected
All my nights, all my nights with a silver screen
Nothing wrong with the way that I respect her
She's more than an, more than an ordinary queen

Drench you in a passion
And dress you with a passion
Though the vision haunts you
I'm the one who wants you to love me with those eyes
Love me with those eyes

When the days are short
And the nights are long
And I wait for you to love me with those eyes
Love me with those eyes, eyes, eyes
Love me with those eyes, eyes
Love me with those eyes
