

The Bell Ringers

Hot Chip

I can't find the years between us
Even if I tried to leave us
And if that is something then I'm glad we've found these
And that is something I can now put my arms around
I can't find the years between us
Even if I tried to leave us
And if that is something then I'm glad we've found these
And that is something I can now put my arms around

Maybe we should let this go
We get another
I divided mine
I grabbed my womb and brother
It's home time, it's goodbye time
When the bell rings
It's home time, it's goodbye time
When the bell rings
It's home time, it's goodbye time
When the bell rings
It's home time, it's goodbye time
When the bell rings
