

Runaway Girl

Hot Chocolate

Call your mother on the phone
Tell her you won't be long
Runaway girl
You're going home

I know the music turns you on
And for miles and miles you've come
To be along with the one you love

But you and me could never be together
We're both from different worlds
What you see isn't really me
I'm hiding behind a wall of fantasy

So dry the tears from your eyes
Let the music blind you
Runaway girl
Be on your way

It isn't easy to resist ya
Though the nights are so lonely

And I'm far away from home

You and me
Could spend the night together
But that would break your heart
Can't you see that to me
You're just another face
From another place?

Run away
Runaway girl

You and me
Could spend the night together
But that would break your heart
Can't you see that to me
You're just another face
From another place?

Run away
Runaway girl

Don't cry, don't cry
Don't cry no more
I don't wanna
I don't wanna break your little heart
