

Love Never Wasted

Howard Jones

I remember the day we met
Like a thunderbolt out of the blue
You seemed to like the way that I came across
It always meant more to me than it meant to you

Recalling a daydream I had as a child
A half-hidden memory a more innocent time

Your love's never wasted if that love is true
Cos all that you're giving out
Will surely be coming back to you
In the strangest of ways
On your darkest of days
Cos all that you're giving out
Will surely be coming back ...to you

So no need to be worrying
No need to count the cost
No searching on the outside for the inside world
No finding no loss

I'm remembering something so distant so fine
Ancient, eternal, but still ahead of it's time

Your love's never wasted if that love is true
Cos all that you're giving out
Will surely be coming back to you
In the strangest of ways
On your darkest of days
Cos all that you're giving out
Will surely be coming back ...to you

So love with abandon
Love without judgment and love without fear
With Confidence in tomorrow
Love with a smile and a tear
It's not always reflected not always fulfilled
Love's not out to get you, but wants you to build

Your love's never wasted (Love's never wasted)
If that love is true (if that love is true)
Cos all that you're giving out (Cos all that you're giving out)
Will surely becoming back to you (Will surely becoming back to you)
In the strangest of ways (In the strangest of ways)
On your darkest of days (On your darkest of days)
Cos all that you're giving out (Cos all that you're giving out)
Will surely be coming back (Will surely be coming back)...to you

Your love's never wasted
Your love's never wasted
Cos all that you're giving out
Will surely becoming back to you
Your love's never wasted
Your love's never wasted
Will surely be coming back
