Worried Spirits

Oh my worried spirits oh my troubled mind woke me up late last night just to tell me I wasn't trying what do you think I'm going to answer? I know what they told me is true Well I must care less about some things I guess What am I to do? CHORUS It's hard to take some time The strong ones fade And the weak ones die But you got to keep on trying Tell me who's going to pick up the pieces When you start to break down Who will be left to answer your questions? Take a good look around oh my worried spirits oh my troubled mind tell me what are we going to do when the money's all gone and we are losing our home it'll be hard to eat, with a plate on the street fighting the dog for his bone CHORUS
