

Rivolta Silenziosa

Humanwine

They sling our marrow like its fodder Mortaring morticious brothers We'll never get out of this place alive if these walls these walls keep closing into practiced chains of blather Bubbling a thick blood lather Washboard ribs and broken cribs These walls these walls keep closing in

Nana na na na na

Fear just fell from a loaded sleeve fluent in the tongue of greed A master at the art of sleaze who's walls Who's walls are a fiendish grin of rotten desolation Paranoid isolation Fueling our blood stained machines the bells of free-dumb liberty the smell of gunshot bitter sweet

These walls these walls keep closing in
Oh where do we begin our dismantling?
We call on all to sing!
These walls keep closing in
Oh where do we begin our dismantling?
We call on all to sing!

Nana na na na na

Canisters of feigned dissent
They load our bodies into them
The prize surprise its eating at your eyes and drawing down them shades made out of skin it's kin eating kin Cogs living in the burning city

When will this day ever end?
Will the words from within break down this wall?
Our fall This wall!!

Will this dust ever settle
Even better now the sky is bent?
I got a a stomach full of fingernails
and another's femur on my head
Will this dust ever settle
Even better now the sky is bent?
I got a a stomach full of fingernails
and another's femur on my head

Eyeballs plug the mouths like hoses scared of all the not-me noses poking into our daydreams while in the distance glistening that wall of bones that holds our tongues in scared of all the taste bud rows of hands that speak to you and me that sign RIVOLTA SILENZIOSA!

These walls keep closing in
Oh where do we begin our dismantling?
We call on all to sing!
