

Wake Up

Humanwine

They crawl from the mouths and then fall to the ground out of sight
They burgle the heart of the child and fall them to sleep
By feeding them lies like a pill promising it's alright
But never so broke is this newly sick joke Delusions are spoiling the air that we breathe

And now it's time to draw the line between the things
we hold up to this light
we've taken as gift
and the things deep inside we once knew in AWE.

So keep their pill tucked under your tongue 'till they leave Sizz it out quickly and rub the spit on your sleeve Feeling your way out of bed in the dark There's no light
Crawl out of bed even in your nightclothes
Meet us outside where the sky greets the road

Cos now it's time
to draw the line
between the things
we hold up to this light
we've taken as gift
and the things deep inside
we once knew in AWE.

Wake up wake up
Don't swallow the pill
Wake up wake up
Your fear will kill
The thieves are crawling through the night
They're here to twist your thoughts and sight
Wake up
Wake up
They're by your bed
They're flipping their lies up into the air While they tilt Your head

They told me my dreams were common disease
To prey to their god get down on my knees
The dollar in heaven says slavery is free

Wake up!

I felt lies pouring down my throat then splash in my stomach which sent out a jolt I now have a number in place of my name
A guaranteed role in their new world game
They show me friends
And who I should hate Tossing out freedoms to keep us all safe WAIT WAIT WAIT!

Wake up wake up
Don't swallow the pill
Wake up wake up
Your fear will kill
The thieves are crawling through the night
They're here to twist your thoughts and sight

Wake up
Wake up

They're in your head
Unless we open our eyes tonight We'll end up dead

What's so safe about war at large?
And how bout the way they put them in charge?
The large in charge will run the earth dry Denying the choices of you and I

Wake up!
