

Truth With Elegance

Hundred Reasons

Try to hole onto something growing to some extent to be the water of it all crowded room belie elegance truth be told
Evidence will turn your cheeks cold pretend I'm worth a million trial with countless tears and sleepless nights do not Ignore the feeling the fluorescence you wash from your hair so the cruelty could cling to your pillow yet the wrong that
Your do go unimpaired you should hope that the ground will not swallow if the future took element wouldn't you compliment
And tell me all you know your the victim of circumstance and bordered intelligence but you refuse to learn
Pretend I'm worth a million trial with countless tears and sleepless nights do not ignore the feeling the fluorescence you
Wash from your hair so the cruelty could cling to your pillow yet the wrong that your do go unimpaired you should hope that
The ground will not swallow
Not I lay down and try to sleep but its difficult without a drink if you were here it would be easy the fluorescence you
Wash from your hair so the cruelty could cling to your pillow yet the wrong that your do go unimpaired you should hope that
The ground will not swallow