

Thin White Line

I Can Make a Mess Like Nobody's Business

Honey I'm feeling like a wave about to break
I've been on my way back home for so long I just need a place to go and rest my head maybe for a while If that's alright
Come and settle down I found my place in line Come and settle down I know exactly what is right Thin white line that's harder to define a real hope to help you sleep at night I'm slowing down I'm stopping now cause breathing in the air is toxic to make it out you've gotta learn to let it all go
