

Angels Or Demons?

I Fight Dragons

The angels, the demons
You pick sides
Get to feelin like you know who's right
And who's gonna pay tonight

The wicked, the holy
The trick is that it's only
How it looks right now
And tomorrow it could turn around

But they say they found all the answers
Its their way and no one can stand against em
I say that I'll take my chances
And then we'll see
What I'll be...

The angels
The demons
Everybody's got their reasons
Maybe all you've seen
Is one side of the story

The demons
The angels
Which is which? Well
Only time will tell
The best that you can do
Is ask yourself just what are you?

The haters, the hated
The tables turn like they waited for
But all too soon
They take it out on someone new

So if you feel stuck in the center
Beat down, alone, well then just remember
Today a reject
Tomorrow a savior
And back again
Guard your friends...

The angels
The demons
Everybody's got their reasons
Maybe all you've seen
Is one side of the story
